COMMENDING 153RD INFANTRY OF THE ARKANSAS NATIONAL GUARD

● Mrs. LINCOLN. Mr. President, today I wish to recognize the outstanding humanitarian assistance recently provided by Company C, 153rd Infantry of the Arkansas National Guard.

In early April, Mena, AR, was hit by an F3 tornado which devastated this small town in western Arkansas. These severe storms killed 3, injured more than 100, and left thousands of residents without power. The tornado also damaged important emergency response centers in the town and county, including the hospital, the police and fire departments, and the courthouse, which houses the 911 emergency dispatch center.

However, under the leadership of CPT Rodney Lay, Company C of the 153rd Infantry, including team leaders 1LT Brian Lawrence Inman, 1SG Eric Schnell, SSG James Schnell, SSG Jacob Sullivan, SSG Neal Badger, and WO Jeffrey Shores, helped to immediately restore order to the devastated community. Company C provided downtown security during the aftermath of the tornado and went door to door to check on area citizens. In addition, they provided aid to victims of the storm that could not be transported to the city's hospital.

Our military simply could not function without the thousands of reservists and guardsmen on bases and armories in communities across this country. Since September 11, 2001, they have been called upon to serve in unprecedented numbers. We honor the tremendous service they provide in preserving our freedoms, but we must also not forget the critical role they play in responding on the homefront in communities like Mena that desperately need their help in restoring order and stability in their time of need.

I am honored to recognize the outstanding service of these citizen soldiers to the State of Arkansas and to the thousands of others who have helped provide assistance and support to communities in need.●
